NEWS OF KANSAS.

State Board of Health Interferes in Kansas City.

This the Board of Education Does Not Like.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Ottawa and Kansas Universities Play Football Today.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 27.—There is a conflict of authority between the state board of health and the board of education of this city over the matter of sanitation in the public schools. The state board claims it has the say in all matters pertaining to sanitation in the state, and the board of education is compelled to adopt any measures in that line it may suggest. The board of education claims under a recent law passed by the legislature that it has the sole power in reference to sanitary matters in the schools and that the state board has no right to interfere with any plans it may suggest.

The question arose over the recent scare in the north end of town over the prevalence of scarlet fever. Although the disease, so the board claims, has abated and there is no danger at the present time, the state board of health wants the school board to understand that it has power in the future to close schools here in case of epidemic. The school board has no right to interfere. The difficulty will likely call for an opinion from the attorney general of the state.

A number of children have been taken out of the schools in the north end recently on account of scarlet fever. County Physician Cornell received notice from Secretary Dykes, of the state board of health, yesterday, to enforce the state law in regard to sanitation and that if the scarlet fever spreads any more on the north side to see that the public schools in that locality are closed.

OTTAWA AGAINST K. S. U.

The Way the Foot Ball Teams Will Line Up This Afternoon.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 27.—This afternoon the Ottawa and Kansas State University football teams play on McCook's field. The game has long been looked forward to with the greatest expectancy and each side will make the hardest kind of a fight to win. Between two and three hundred will come up from Ottawa and Baldwin. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The teams will probably line up in order something like this:

OTTAWA. Toomey Wilson, halfback. Taylor Hester, center. Potter Shellenberger, quarterback. Allen Stone, center. Austin Hassig, right guard. Hamill Moody, left guard. Moon Pope, left tackle. Davison Fletcher, right tackle. Farrar Steinberger, left end. Pearson Armer, right end. Redell Allen is the field manager for Ottawa and Taylor captain. The Kansas State University's captain is Williamson.

Leavenworth Challenges Topeka.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 27.—The Topeka Gun club, present holder of the team trophy, representing the championship of the state, has been challenged to a contest for the trophy by the Leavenworth club. Any team contesting for the trophy must consist of five men only and be members of the same club. Each man must shoot at fifty targets, thirty singles at unknown angles and ten pairs.

Gang of Burglars at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—Burglars are again at work in Pittsburg. Last night they attempted to enter the house of J. W. Strider but were discovered, shot at and ran away. They had made two other attempts on the same residence but were frustrated. It is thought the gang is part of that which has been infesting Girard.

Stole Wagon Loads of Apples.

NEWTON, Oct. 27.—Unknown parties entered R. H. Farr's orchard east of the city and stole two wagon loads of apples. The orchard is some distance from Mr. Farr's residence, and the thieves drove into it and helped themselves to the finest apples on the place. It is the supposition that the apples were taken to Wichita and sold there.

Residence Burned at Emporia.

EMPORIA, Oct. 27.—The residence of Mrs. C. J. Hollandsworth was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Hollandsworth and son, Will, were asleep in the house, and were awakened by the smoke. Considerable light furniture and goods, however, were carried out by the neighbors. The house and goods were insured for $2,450.

With Loss of Leg.

LEAVENWORTH, Oct. 27.—William Bailey, a Union Pacific section hand, was caught between two freight cars near the old sugar factory, and so badly injured that he will lose one leg. It was stated this morning that Bailey was wheeling cinders across the track, and that the disconnected parts of a train suddenly came together, catching him.

J. J. Rothman's Failure.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—J. J. Rothman, who has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, says that his liabilities will probably amount to $750,000 and his creditors are amply secured. His assets are estimated at two million dollars. No schedule has yet been filed in court.

HOT ON DEBS' TRAIL.

Railroad Attorney Walker, Bound to Get Him Behind the Bars.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Edwin Walker has returned to Chicago from Washington, where he had several conferences with Attorney General Olney on the subject of indictments against Eugene V. Debs and other officers of the American Railway union. It is evident from Judge Walker's remarks that Mr. Debs will travel a long and rocky road before government officials get through with him. They intend to bring him to trial on every indictment no matter how long the cases may be drawn out.

"As soon as Judge Woods hands down his decision on the recent trial for contempt of the federal court," Mr. Walker said, "we shall take up the perpetual injunction against interfering with the transmission of United States mails and with interstate commerce. That will be brought to issue at once."

"Should Judge Woods find Debs guilty of contempt in the case tried a month or so ago I do not believe he will be sent to jail right away, because it might be said he was not given a fair chance to prepare himself for trial in the more serious criminal cases. Talking through the bars is not a satisfactory way of communicating with a lawyer, and Mr. Debs will be given a fair chance to defend himself in the criminal suits."

"I don't believe there will ever be another big railroad strike in this country," Mr. Walker continued. "Debs led his followers into a trap that had never before been set for them. I refer to the machinery of the government, and the disposition of federal officers seems to be to convince these men and all others that they will not be allowed to stop any department of the government's work."

A CUT IN SUGAR.

Philadelphia Wholesalers Cut Sugar Prices Without Fear.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Something of a sensation was created among the wholesale grocers of this city today by the action of the large wholesale firm of Trimble, Sides & Co., in cutting sugar prices $\frac{1}{2}$ of a cent by selling 1,000 barrels of granulated at 44 cents per pound less the refiners' rebate, which is 8 1-16 on 100 barrel lots with an additional trade discount of 1 per cent for cash.

There is an agreement among members of the Wholesale Grocers and Importers Exchange not to undersell the rates quoted by the refiners and when the news of the action of the Trimble, Sides & Company leaked out, considerable feeling was manifested. Some of the prominent members of the exchange claimed it would break up the organization. It is said in Chicago, Detroit and one or two other western cities, that the granulated sugar which costs 4 cents per pound, plus the freight charges, has been selling at 44 cents.

KEEP AMERICAN BEEF OUT.

American Live Cattle Not Allowed to Land at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Oct. 27.—The senate today published a decree prohibiting the importation of American live cattle and fresh beef on the ground that two cases which just arrived contained several animals suffering from Texas fever. Consignments which are proved to have left America by October 27 are exempted from these provisions, but the animals imported must be killed at the abattoir here immediately after they are landed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The action of the German government in prohibiting the importation of cattle and fresh beef was not entirely unexpected by the agricultural department, although the officials had hoped up to the last moment that the Germans would prove open to reason. The matter will not be allowed to rest where it now stands, but our government will cause a thorough investigation to be made of the causes of the alleged act in such a summary fashion. No doubt is felt here that these alleged cases will turn out to be founded on a mistaken diagnosis; for if there is any cattle disease in Germany, veterinary surgeons know little about that disease is Texas fever, a purely climatic non-infectious fever peculiar to America.

MEN BURIED ALIVE.

With Their Heads Sticking Above Ground.

Brazilian Army Officer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A special to the World from Montevideo says: An American newspaper correspondent who has just arrived here overland from Rio de Janeiro, having passed through the entire intervening country, reports he saw on the way the bodies of live men who had been buried alive in standing position by order of the Brazilian commanders, but with their heads exposed and who had perished either from starvation or from the attacks of vultures, which had eaten out their eyes and picked the skulls bare of flesh.

At Santa Mateo the clothing of women suspected of sympathizing with the revolution has been saturated with oil and set on fire. When the women were burning the soldiers were ordered to shoot and wound but not to kill them. The correspondent says some of his fingers were torn off after he had been subjected to torture by the extraction of the nails. Though now under a doctor's care, he expects to start for New York soon.

TWELVE BURNED.

Fire Breaks Out in a Hotel at Seattle.

It Spread so Quickly That Few Could Escape.

WAS A WILD PANIC.

People Jumped from Windows in Their Night Clothes.

One Woman Drops Her Baby from a Window.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—A fire which resulted certainly in twelve deaths and the injury of three more broke out in the West Street house, at Columbia and West streets, about 1 o'clock this morning. All the dead are burned beyond recognition and the owners decided to let the dead remain where they are in hopes that the proprietor could identify the bodies by the location of the rooms, the hotel register being saved. The flames broke out so suddenly and so fiercely that the occupants were taken by surprise, and there was a wild panic, men and women jumping from the windows in all kinds of attire.

A sharp explosion was heard in the kitchen in the rear part of the second story, by S. E. Butler, a son of the proprietor, and immediately the flames began to spread rapidly through the dry timber of the corrugated iron building, which is one of a range of two-story structures owned by J. M. Coleman on the east side of West street.

Butler raised a cry of fire, which aroused guests with whom the house was crowded, and a rush for life followed. It was not long that the flames were rushing through the long narrow halls like invading soldiers seeking a city. In the meantime Officer F. E. Bryant had discovered the flames and turned in an alarm, which brought the fire department to the scene. Then he turned his attention to saving the terrified people who peered from every window, with the flames fast creeping up behind them. He found Mrs. Susie Allen and her two-year-old child at a window on the West street side, the woman crying for some one to save the child.

"Drop the child," shouted the officer. She did so, and he caught it safely in his arms. Depositing it on the ground he snatched a plank and set it against the window. The woman slid down it, and suffered no further injury than a few scalds.

W. E. Butler, proprietor of the hotel, was in the room when the flames were discovered and escaped in scanty attire.

His son, S. F. Butler, was night clerk at the hotel. He says the fire undoubtedly originated from a kerosene lamp in the kitchen, which was located on the upper floor near the rear wall. The flames made such rapid progress that before the inmates could possibly be aroused the fire was upon them. Then the people began to drop from the windows on both sides, the flames closely following them.

C. R. Lewis, who was in room A, at the corner, dropped twenty feet to the ground and escaped unhurt.

Joseph A. Day, who was in room 64, tied the sheets together and used them as a rope to slide down on.

D. B. Glass jumped out of a window, but not till his hair burned. He struck on his back and lay struggling on the ground. He was picked up and carried to the Northern Pacific passenger station and with two others was taken to the hospital. One poor fellow, whose identity is not known, was caught in the rush of the conflagration near the top of the West street stairway and sank down overcome with the smoke and flames.

The firemen fought to keep the fire away from his body, but were driven back and when last seen the victim's right arm had been burned to a blackened cinder. The streams of water were kept trained on this place and the water fell in torrents on the stairway and was not enough almost to scald. It was only after the fire department had got well to work that the full horror of the affair began to reveal itself and by that time the building was a mere shell.

There was some unaccountable delay in getting the water on owing to the slowness of the fire boat getting up steam. When at last the pressure did come the building was a raging furnace and all that could be done was to confine the flames to the block where they started. The first dead man was taken out from a room over the Hill Syrup company's store and was found with one leg in his trousers and his shoes half in.

The body was discovered with his head covered with the bed clothes, under the bed, having apparently hidden from the flames, so badly burned as to be unrecognizable as were all the other bodies.

FOURTEEN DEAD BODIES.

The Loss of Life at the Seattle Fire Was Terrible.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—2 p. m.—Fourteen dead bodies have been taken from the ruins of the West hotel and two more bodies are thought to be in the ruins. None of the bodies have been identified as yet.

Military critics affirm that the standard of the United States army is constantly improving. The forces are supplied with Dr. Price's Baking Powder.
